Goa on alert! Banned 'Savita Bhabhi' is here

India's biggest and outrageous toon porn star Savita Bhabhi has set foot in the sands of Goa - of course, in cyber space. And the state government is not too happy.

Already banned by the Indian government, the website showcases the adventures of the seductive, sari-clad Savita, who is the face of Indian graphic porn art.

The latest edition of 'Savita Bhabhi - The sexual adventures of a Hot Indian Bhabhi' has the much-married protagonist visiting a Goa resort with her female friends and ending up in a series of sexual encounters with resort owners, masseurs and sundry.

Already uneasy with the 'sleaze capital of India' tag, the state tourism department has not taken 29-year-old Savita Bhabhi's foray into Goa too graciously.

"We will have to go after these sites. I was not aware of this thing, but rest assured we will examine legal options to go after people who are behind this particular website," Nikhil Desai, managing director of the Goa Tourism Development Corporation (GTDC), told.

"These sites are illegal and are the handiwork of unscrupulous perverts and criminals who are out to make a quick buck. They have nefarious designs," said Desai, who is currently engaged in ensuring that Goa puts its best foot forward for the International Tourism Mart it is hosting next month.

After its original domain was banned by the Indian government for promoting pornography, the toon porn star has now switched to a more inconspicuous address.

The website describes Savita (Patel) Bhabhi as a "regular Indian woman in the eyes of the world, but only a few lucky people know who she really is. She is a woman who finds the need to explore her sexuality and enjoy the moment. Trapped in a loveless marriage, she is always open to new sexual experiences. This series follows her various sexual exploits and fantasies".

The two-part series of Savita Bhabhi's Goa adventures is available on its new website for a price and carries a provocative strap line 'Beautiful beaches, sexy swimsuits, one hot bhabhi'.

According to Desai, such vulgar projection of Goa by the toon porn site won't dent Goa's image much.

"People who visit these sites are perverts. There will be perverts in this world. I think people who really want to go on a clean holiday will not go by the impression of Goa created on these websites," Desai said, adding that tourists would go to proper websites for genuine information on Goa.

Superintendent of Police (Special Branch) Atmaram Deshpande said a cyber cell was being created in the state police force just to go after such websites.

"We are keeping track of such websites. But most of these websites are registered abroad and are being operated from there," said Deshpande.

The website, which hosts the pictorial adventures of the bhabhi, is operated from an IP address based in Brooklyn, US.

According to the police spokesperson, such websites try to cash in on 'Brand Goa', which helps gather eyeballs.

"Those behind such websites that promote escort services and pornography know the value of Goa. They are using Goa as a brand, while the real operations happen from elsewhere," Deshpande said.
